A Store for Men

A man's store indeed—for more Philadelphia men buy their clothing here than in any other one store in Philadelphia. In fact, we have good reason to believe no one store in New York City—with its vast masculine population—sells as much men's clothing in the course of a year as we do here. Our men's section is indeed a store within a store where are assembled the things men need, gathered from men's fashion centres of Europe and America, by men who have made a lifelong study of the requirements of men. And note, if you please, the fact that women invariably come to this Store when commissioned to select apparel or furnishings for men—is ample testimony of the worthiness of quality and rightness of prices.
